Comments *	I believe there is far too much access to elected members by corporate interests. I believe that lobbying or access to elected members should be strictly restricted to groups or organizations that represent citizens and their interests exclusively. No access to elected members by corporations or their lobbying groups. Corporations and business in general exist at the pleasure of the people. They should provide a service or goods that the people need or want and they must provide that service or goods in an citizen acceptable way in adherence to citizens acceptable regulations and rules without.
