PART B: COMMENTS
Comments *	This government's agenda to push through environmentally disastrous legislation means they will want lobbyists to have enormous access and the monetary ability to bribe, through "donation", government officials. The rules need to limit lobbying and "donation" power to a minimum and force officials to ask their constituents what they want. In other words, get off your high horse and work for your constituents and your paycheque. Ideology has no place in a government for the people. Looking at you Kenney. Strong limits must be set to protect what we have and not sell it to the highest bidder.
