I would like to say I do not agree with this bill as it is unnecessary. I have not seen a need for this as one should always be paid for the work done , I for one have not been able to complain honestly about any automotive repair bill I have ever received. 25 years of owning vehicles and have not been unfairly charged , and if there was a failure or breakdown have been treated fair. I personally feel the way this is outlined it is a witch hunt on auto repair facilities, have you ever had a plumber , gas fitter , or electrician show up and give a quote . If the auto industry is hit so should the other above listed business's
