Interesting to think that the NDP is actually interested in anything Albertans have to say. It has been made very clear, that with or without registration, with or without 180,000 signatures, the NDP does not care what ordinary Albertans think. It will forge ahead without consultation, without our best interests and with little to no care about our future. It's a sad time in Alberta, and I only hope we survive the destructive measures your dictator government is forging ahead with. I honestly have no idea how you people sleep at night. 2019 can't come soon enough.
