I would like to participate in reviewing the Lobbyists Act, as it is evident that some "special interest groups" are really not serving the best interests of children and senior citizens, nor are they good stewards of the environment - and have no interest except to serve themselves. The government of Alberta since the last election has moved forward with some policies that are offensive - and they have been peacefully protested at the legislature by many families - young and old for very good, and scientifically, and economically defensible reasons.
